MESSAGE FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Our fiscal year 2025 was a significant turnaround year for us as we shifted our attention to shoring up resources. We reduced our operating deficit 86 per cent from the prior year and are on track to eliminate it in fiscal year 2026.

The demand for our services remains historically high from families. So, I am pleased to report that our volunteer activity is surging.

We continue to encourage volunteers to consider the Big Brothers Community program which matches boys and gender-diverse youth with adult mentors. We recognize the significant commitment that this program requires but we also hear from our Big Brother volunteer about the incredible rewards it yields both to the mentor and mentee. We continue to have many families waiting for a Big Brother, particularly in Surrey.

We also continued our efforts to reduce costs where possible by going paperless, automating our HR system and dramatically reducing our office footprint. We are making all possible resources available to our program team so that they can provide the excellence for which we are known.

I wish to thank our entire staff team across our three agencies for their incredible dedication to the cause of mentorship throughout the year.

And to our donors who support us through golf and donations of used clothing and monetary gifts, we are indebted to your kindness and it makes us even more determined to positively impact our community.

I will end with a most sincere thanks to our volunteer directors who serve on the Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver, Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver Foundation and Renew Crew Foundation boards. Each of you is instrumental in guiding our program and funding activities and your contributions are most appreciated.

Thank you.

Valerie Lambert

Valerie Lambert, CPA, CA, ICD.D

MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD CHAIR

It has been my absolute pleasure to serve as Chair of the Board of Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver throughout fiscal year 2025.

With the wise counsel of the Board and in cooperation with the directors of our two foundations, Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver Foundation (BBGVF) and Renew Crew Foundation (RCF), we have stewarded the organizations to maximize community contribution and to create the healthiest and most productive teams possible. In particular, I would like to thank the BBGVF Chair, Steven Joe, and the RCF Chair Iain MacMillan for their dedication.

An important part of the work of the Boards is to guide the development of the Strategic Plan every five years. After many thought-provoking sessions and much consultation with our stakeholders, our Strategic Plan for the years 2025 to 2030 is published and in motion.

It reaffirms our Mission, Vision and Values and provides intentional direction on how to best meet the mentorship needs of the communities with the resources at-hand. The Strategic Plan is available on our website.

The Board works closely not only with the Executive Director but also with many of the staff. I am always impressed by the commitment to the cause of mentorship demonstrated by the staff and on behalf of the Board, I thank all of you for that.

I also wish to thank my co-directors and all of our donors, volunteers and supporters who make our organization so successful. I look forward to the years ahead as we realize our ambitious goals over the next five years.

Thank you.

Fred Haiderzada, Board Chair,
Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver

MENTORING THROUGH GENERATIONS

When Evan signed up to be a Big Brother, he wasn't just looking to become a mentor, he was honoring a promise.

"The reason I became a Big Brother was actually because I was a Little Brother myself when I was younger," Evan said. "A promise I made to myself was that one day I would do the same for my Little Brother. And I believe it's a promise I've kept."

Now matched with a Little Brother, Caige, their bond goes far beyond only mentorship. What began as a structured pairing quickly evolved into a genuine friendship rooted in trust and authenticity.

"Let's just say I don't go through the best in my life, but Evan is always there. So, I can always bring up positivity in my life. If I ever feel down, hanging out with him always kind of brings that energy back up," Caige said.

The roots of their Big Brothers connection go back generations to when Evan had a Big Brother, Jeremy, who himself had a Big Brothers as a youth.

"When I was a Little Brother, Jeremy, whenever I had tough situations, he would be the first person I'd go to," Evan said.

"Having somebody there who's older than you, who's been through similar situations as you, who can give you the guidance and the support that you need, that was something very important and very significant to my life at that point."

Evan's Big Brother also followed a kind of philosophy that was to always help pave the way for the younger generation and it's an effect not lost on Caige.

"Having an older brother has helped me also with fixing friendships, making new friends and being able to talk to new people. Kind of like getting out of my comfort zone as much as possible," Caige explained.

Evan said that the mentor-mentee relationship isn't a one-way street but is actually quite dynamic. In many situations, it has felt like Caige has been a mentor to him.

"The way he acts and the way he does things, I really admire. He's definitely doing a lot better than I was when I was Caige's age," he said.

The two have had a lot of fun experiences, with many still to come, and Caige has a vision for the future to keep paying that forward.

"I also want to give that to other Little Brothers who haven't gotten that experience," he said. "I want them to grow up and think to themselves, 'I had someone to mentor me, and I felt so appreciated by him.'"

"I want to give that back to another person. I want to keep that going, generation after generation."

OUR PROGRAMS

Our Mentors and Mentees represent a diversity of backgrounds, experiences, abilities and identities. Our programs welcome volunteers, children, youth and families of all sexual orientations, gender identities and expressions, including trans, non-binary and gender-fluid individuals.

Big Brothers Community Program

This program provides supportive one-to-one mentoring for children ages 7-14 with an adult volunteer role model. Once matched, mentees can remain in our program until the age of 19. A Mentor is a person that a Mentee can talk to, learn from and share experiences with. Through regular weekly outings, a relationship builds on trust, common interests and fun! The relationship is monitored and supported by our experienced Mentoring Coordinator staff as well as the Parent or Guardian. Together, we ensure the development of a positive and meaningful relationship. This is a one-year commitment, meeting weekly for 2 to 4 hours in your local community. Big and Little Brothers spend quality time together doing free or low-cost activities. We provide activity ideas and experiences to community events. The result: an impactful experience for both the Mentor and the Mentee.

In-School Mentoring

This program matches children with adult volunteers to provide supportive and meaningful one-to-one mentoring relationships. Big and Little Buddies meet for one-hour per week during the school day to build a connection through play-based child-led activities. Little Buddies are nominated by school staff as students who could benefit from an extra layer of support. Big Buddy volunteer opportunities are open to any adults aged 18+ who can express care, challenge growth, provide support and expand possibilities with a child or youth.

Teen Mentoring

This fun after-school program matches elementary-aged children with a teenage Big Buddy from a nearby high school. Little Buddies are nominated by school staff as students who could benefit from an extra layer of support. The Big and Little Buddies meet once per week on school grounds to engage in fun-based activities within a group setting. The program has been shown to improve self-esteem, confidence, social skills and connectedness to school for the Little Buddy, while the Big Buddy is able to develop practical skills such as communication, facilitation, reliability and consistency.

Youth Leadership

The goal of the Youth Leadership program is to provide teen volunteers with additional opportunities to grow as well-rounded mentors and build practical skills that enable them to become leaders in their communities. The program offers workshops, through the Teen Mentoring program, and monthly interactive sessions. The skills developed through Youth Leadership include conflict resolution, leadership skills, career planning, resume building, activity planning, mindfulness, post-secondary education applications and much more.

Game On!

Game On! is a group mentoring program that helps support youth to make informed choices about healthy lifestyle practices. Through fun physical activities and active play, complemented with balanced eating support and snacks, participants are engaged in life skills, communication and social-emotional health discussions to encourage a lifelong healthy lifestyle. Game On! is an 8-week program where a volunteer duo leads a group of elementary school children once per week for 90 minutes. The program is offered throughout the year at schools and community centres throughout Greater Vancouver.

Mentoring with Math

The Mentoring with Math program enhances the impact of tutoring by adding in the element of mentorship. Learning from a Mentor as a positive role model and friend encourages self-esteem and confidence-building for the Mentees as they work through the Jump Math curriculum together. Mentoring with Math is for children who could benefit from additional support in mathematics at their grade level and who are unable to access other academic enrichment programs. Mentoring with Math is a 10-week program, occurring once weekly for 90 minutes in-person, or for 60 minutes virtually, throughout and for children in Greater Vancouver.

Roots Mentoring

A fun after-school program where Big and Little Buddies connect and share knowledge through mentorship. This program amplifies and celebrates Indigenous cultures while learning from the experiences and teachings of Indigenous Community Leaders and honoured guests. We welcome Indigenous and non-Indigenous youth to take part in fostering an environment of curiosity and dialogue to learn from one another and from our honoured guests. The Roots Program is inspired and informed by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. Mentors are in grades 9-12 and Mentees are in Kindergarten to Grade 7.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver is a community supported organization that raises funds from multiple sources in order to meet the growing needs of the children and families we serve throughout Greater Vancouver. We received funding for the 2025 fiscal year totalling $2,415,947. Our primary sources of funding are from donations, events, and corporate and government grants.

This year marked an exciting milestone for our organization as it was our first full year operating from our new permanent home in Joyce-Collingwood. The purchase of our office strata lots has allowed us to put resources towards strengthening our operations, enhanced collaboration across our team, and allowed us to better serve the children, families, and communities who rely on our programs.

Our mission to increase direct program delivery and expand access to mentoring opportunities continued to guide our efforts. We are proud to share that we served 15% more matches than in the previous year (959 in fiscal 2025 compared to 835 in fiscal 2024) and are on track to sustain this growth trajectory into the coming years. Our staff team remains the most stable and cohesive it has ever been, allowing us to focus more deeply on program quality, community engagement, and long-term impact.

This year, we also completed our new Strategic Plan, charting our direction through to 2030. The plan outlines our priorities for strengthening partnerships, enhancing volunteer recruitment and retention, and ensuring our programs continue to meet the evolving needs of the children and youth we serve.

From a financial perspective, overall expenses remained consistent with the prior year. General and administrative expenses increased by 21%, primarily due to higher use of contractors in the current year to support key administrative functions and recruitment. National affiliation fees increased by 43% due to revised Big Brothers Big Sisters Canada cost structures. Fundraising expenses decreased by 29%, and professional fees decline by 63%, both reflecting continued operational efficiencies and streamlined staffing structures implemented in recent years.

Looking ahead, we are energized by the opportunities that lie ahead. With a strong foundation, a clear strategic roadmap, and a dedicated team, we are well-positioned to continue growing our impact – reaching more children in need of mentors, deepening community relationships, and ensuring the sustainability of our programs for years to come.
